SCRAMx Alcohol Monitoring

SENTINEL®

SCRAMx

SCRAMx is the only scientifically proven and court-validated continuous transdermal alcohol monitor available in the marketplace today. Technologies such as SCRAMx have taken center stage as a way to greatly enhance participant supervision and accountability during community supervision—at a fraction of the cost of incarceration.

SCRAMx provides flexible options for both the type and intensity of supervision while enabling participants to continue to maintain a job and meet their family obligations. In addition, SCRAMx is the only continuous alcohol monitoring product that provides single-source admissibility as it does not require a secondary test to confirm the consumption of alcohol by a participant. In addition, SCRAMx offers these unique benefits:

+ The elimination of testing gaps as the participant cannot miss a test or consume alcohol outside a their testing schedule.
+ SCRAMx automatically tests for the presence of alcohol every 30 minutes, 24/7.
+ It offers optional house arrest/RF monitoring capabilities from one device.
+ Multiple sensors offer best-in-class tamper detection, placement of obstructions and attempts to remove the device.
+ Flexible monitoring levels for multiple needs.
+ Works well in conjunction with treatment to enforce compliance and better identify when intervention may be needed.
